Subject: Seasonal Flu Vaccination Outreach Schedule

Dear Colleagues,

This is in follow-up to the email that you received from Mark Laret, CEO, and Dr. Josh Adler, CMO on September 29, 2009. Attached is the UCSF Occupational Health Services schedule of the Flu Shot Outreach Clinics that will make it very convenient for getting your seasonal flu shot.

The UCSF Occupational Health Services will conduct its Fall 2009 Seasonal Flu Vaccination Outreach clinics starting October 12 to October 28. Influenza vaccination is available at no cost to anyone with a UCSF ID badge. The detailed schedule is shown below and is also available, along with influenza educational materials and other guidance, on the Occupational Health Program website at <http://www.occupationalhealthprogram.ucsf.edu/ohpFluInfo.asp>. UCSF staff and faculty located at SFGH, SF VA, and UCSF Fresno can get their flu shot at any of the UCSF locations or at the specific programs offered at those facilities. A separate vaccination program is being planned for H1N1 vaccination once it becomes available, probably in early November.

Please check the Occupational Health Program website regularly for influenza-related updates. New information will also be announced through UCSF Today.
