

Global Health Molecular Medicine Clinical and Translational Research Health Professions Education Health & Society

All UCSF Students, Residents, Fellows – join us for dinner and learn more about Pathways

Specialized Pathways allow in-depth understanding of health research, curriculum and education theory development, health policy and advocacy, and other interventions to improve health on a global scale.

Mentored Projects designed in collaboration with UCSF faculty, including traditional biomedical, clinical, or social scientific investigation, the development of a new curriculum, method of delivering health care in an underserved community in the U.S. or abroad, or proposed health care legislation.

September 23 Molecular Medicine
September 30 Global Health
October 7 Clinical and Translational Research
October 14 Health Professions Education
October 21 Health and Society

All sessions in S214, 6-7 p.m.

Learn more about the Pathways to Discovery Program at

CLE.UCSF.EDU